zinc oxide-based endodontic dressing

Only £62.50 each

ODONTOPASTE®

zinc oxide-based endodontic dressing

N14P0405 Tube 8g

ODONTOPASTE® is a patented non-staining, zinc oxide-based endodontic dressing, with 5% clindamycin hydrochloride and 1% triamcinolone acetonide.

ODONTOPASTE® prevents bacterial repopulation within the root canal following standard procedures for root canal preparation.

Indications for use

Disinfection of dentinal walls as a therapeutic dressing in prepared canals after pulpectomy and root canal preparation. To reduce postoperative pain and reduce bacterial contamination of root canals.

Contraindications / precautions

ODONTOPASTE® is not suitable for use on pregnant women as triamcinolone acetonide has been shown to be teratogenic on test animals. ODONTOPASTE® should not be used on patients with allergy to lincomycin or clindamycin. ODONTOPASTE® should not be used on patients taking concurrent doses of erythromycin as antagonism has been demonstrated between the two drugs in vitro. ODONTOPASTE® should be used with caution on patients with a history of gastrointestinal disease, particularly those with colitis. ODONTOPASTE® should be used with caution on nursing mothers as clindamycin has been shown to be present in breast milk.

Method of use

Dispense a small amount of ODONTOPASTE® onto a mixing pad. Apply the ODONTOPASTE® directly onto inflamed pulp with a cotton pellet or into the root canal with a lenticulospiral instrument.

Ensure the root canal cavity is filled with ODONTOPASTE®. Seal the tooth as per standard dental procedure for applying a restoration.

ODONTOPASTE® should not be mixed with additional calcium hydroxide as the steroid and the antibiotic activity is impaired.

ODONTOPASTE® contains calcium hydroxide only at 0.5% level which has been proven to be optimal for the preservation of the steroid component.

ODONTOPASTE® is intended for continuous use for less than 30 days.

ODONTOPASTE® dental paste in endodontic therapy

After pulp extirpation and during endodontic therapy, the canals may be filled with ODONTOPASTE®. The cavity is closed with a cotton wool pledget and a temporary dressing.

ODONTOPASTE® is water soluble and can easily be rinsed out of root canals.

When canal preperation has been completed, obturation is then performed using the dentist's preferred material.
